

In the spirit of offering stunning musical adventures and building community connection, I warmly invite you to the inaugural dreaming BIG – Seven Spectacular Concerts.

Expect beautiful music, inspirational performances, engaging conversation, enticing programs and post-concert mingling with guest artists. Offering the hinterland community an opportunity to experience world-class concerts in a rural relaxing setting, this concert series seeks to animate the hall of Eudlo in the heart of the village with music.

Lovingly put together, this concert series is simply about bringing fine musicians that belong on the world's stage to an intimate and special place. My home. Experience great music in the heart of Eudlo.

This year, Eudlo will welcome an exciting line-up of highly regarded musicians. Seven diverse concerts, seven special friendships and seven musical genres. Engaging, informative and educational, these concerts are great for introducing classical music to younger people or those of you who just fancy trying a new experience.

If you have a passion for trying new things and are musically adventurous, this concert series is not to be missed. Experience a relaxing evening of musical adventure, social connection and vintage elegance.

Have you got talent? Are you an aspiring musician? Come and participate in the youth music workshops offered as part of the community enrichment experience. Do you teach music and want to know more about the program or get your students involved? Get in touch.

I invite you to come on a musical journey with me and attend the full series or perhaps just come to your hot pick. Just do something for me - share the experience with someone you adore, a kindred spirit who understands that the finer things in life can happen right here, right now, right under our very noses and in our own backyard.

MUSICAL POSTCARDS with TULIPWOOD STRING QUARTET

TULIPWOOD STRING QUARTET

Benjamin Greaves & Eugenie Costello – Violin, Belinda Williams – Viola, Louise King – Cello

Tulipwood harpullia pendula is an Australian rainforest tree. Small, attractive and found in surprising places, this tree is much like it's musical namesake. It has gone through several transformations in the eight years since its first performance project in 2005 but Tulipwood's musical roots and concept has not changed. Their performances break down traditional classical barriers and introduce new audiences to the beauty, diversity and rich kaleidoscope of music for string quartet.
